Warehouse Plunges
Amid Workers.

Norfolk, Va., May 25.—(United News.)—Four people were killed and approximately 40 injured when a cyclone struck this city and Portsmouth, Va., across the river, late this afternoon.

Eight of the injured are expected to die.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball czar, narrowly escaped injury
when the baseball grandstand at Portsmouth collapsed in the storm. When this structure gave away Richard P.
McWilliams, 40, was killed and 36
persons injured.

Three Workmen Killed.
Three workmen were killed when the wind blew the roof from a Norfolk warehouse. Four others were injured in the debris and seriously injured.

The gale lasted only five minutes
but blew 75 miles an hour.

Trees were uprooted, telephone and telegraph lines were blown down and many homes near Portsmouth unroofed. Except for the damage to the warehouse and trees, Norfolk suffered but little from the gale.

The Portsmouth baseball stand collapsed.

Porter in Tower As Funds Shrank, McLendon Says

$8,483 Shortage Incurred
From March 25 to 31;
Negro Jailed March 22,
Full Report Shows.

SECRETARY LAYS
BLAME ON CASHIER

Full Details Given Attorney General in Probe of Motor Vehicle Discrepancy in Receipts.

Shortage of $8,483.98 in the state
motor vehicle bureau under Cashier
C. A. Cook occurred after the incarceration of a negro porter, charged with attempted theft of $500 from the bureau safe, according to an exhaustive report made Wednesday to Attorney General George M. Nader by Secretary of State S. G. McLendon.

C. A. Cook, former cashier of the department, is held directly responsible for the shortage by Secretary Mc-Lendon. Cook has admitted the shortage, but denies any responsibility, having declared in published statements that he had known of the discrepancy for some time and was seeking to discover the thief.

Secretary McLendon, in his report, indicates that an attempted theft of $500 from the office safe by a negro reporter, could have no bearing on the larger loss, inasmuch as the office record shows that the $8,483.98 discrepancy occurred in the period between March 25 and March 31, whereas the negro was caught in his attempted robbery on March 22 and

LINDBERGH PLANS TRANS-EUROPEAN TOUR IN AIRPLANE

Many Capitals To Be Visited; Slim Wins
French by Donating Cup
Fund to Fliers' Widows.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Copyright, 1927, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Paris, May 25.—Captain Charles Lindbergh today practically decided to make a trans-European flying tour, visiting Brussels, London, Copenhagen, Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Naples, Madrid, and then Paris.

The trip would require several weeks, as Lindy will remain two or three days in the various capitals
while covering the additional 3,000 miles.

The slim pilot has received official invitations from the chiefs of state of the various countries he contemplated visiting, and royal bids asking him to be the guest of kings and presidents in most of the capitals. He probably will prefer to stay with the United States government's representative, as he is doing here, and tonight he announced that he would live at the American embassy in Brussels
as the guest of the American charge d' Affaires, and with Ambassador Almon C. Doughton in London.

Foreign Offices Urge Trip.
The foreign offices of the various powers interested in the trip through their diplomatic delegates in Paris urged Lindy to make the tour, pointing out the advantages of him visiting these countries while in Europe
on such an auspicious occasion.

Representatives of the smaller powers, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Switzerland and Yugoslavia, also are keenly trying to induce the trans-Atlantic flier to stop over in their capitals.
If the European flight is made,
Slim probably will not sail for New York before the middle of June, as he firmly intends to pass several days in Paris quietly before sailing, probably visiting the battlefields and army countrysides.

Lindy estimates that he will cover

Giant Motorcade Celebrates Opening Of Perry-Marietta Paved Highway

Georgia Wednesday celebrated one of the biggest good roads achievements of the country when a stretch of 150 miles of paved highway running from Perry, Ga., to Atlanta and Marietta was dedicated by a huge motorcade. In the pictures, are, top, scene at the Spalding-Henry county line, where the last concrete on the highway was laid, with Mrs. R. K. Rambo, of Atlanta, as the speaker. ## Cheering Thousands Greet Motorists as Party Reaches Atlanta Late Wednesday Afternoon.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

As nearly all the people of middle Georgia turned out Wednesday to greet a gigantic motorcade celebrating the completion of the last link of the longest stretch of paved highway in Georgia, Atlanta opened its doors to hundreds of visitors from all parts of the state who rolled in late Wednesday afternoon to enjoy the last series of entertainments provided for celebrants of an epoch-making good roads event in Georgia.

More than 100 cars were in line as the Perry-Marietta motorcade swung into the heart of the city from Stewart avenue, into Whitehall street.
Headed by Walter B. Stewart, mechanics of the Fulton county commission, riding in the pilot car, accompanied by officials of the Perry-Atlanta Highway association, the motorcade proceeded to the heart of the city with all horns blowing and with footory whistles sounding a royal welcome to the visitors.

The last formal ceremonies christening the highway were held at the Fulton county reformatory, near Hapeville, with Commissioner Stewart presiding.

NEGRO CONFESSES KILLING AGED MAN

James E. Grant Implicates
Another Negro in Relating Details of Buick Watchman's Death.

James E. Grant, negro, of 427
Auburn avenue, who has been held at police station as a suspect in connection with the brutal murder Sunday night of J. L. Ferguson, night watchman at the Buick Motor company, Wednesday afternoon confessed to the murder, according to Detective Lieutenant T. D. Shaw. Ferguson died in a local hospital Tuesday night.

In his confession Grant implicated
Charlie Hicks, negro, of 476 Williams street, N. W., who, he said, wielded an ax at the time the heavy auto spring was used by him (Grant) as the aged night watchman went down
the stairway in the building. Hicks, however, denied any connection with the murder.

German Heiress Heads for Balkans, To Reach U. S.
Next May.

Frankfurt, Germany, May 25.—(AP) Seated at the steering gear of her specially built Adler automobile, Fraulein Claire Stinnes, daughter of the late Hugo Stinnes, industrial magnate, entered upon a motor tour today which will carry her around the world.

Her present objective is Constantinople by way of the Balkans, whence her itinerary will take her into Persia, Russia, Mongolia and China. She will embark from Japan for South America, expecting to reach the United States in May next year. She will return to Germany by way of Spain and France. The caravan comprises two cars, with a chauffeur and camera man. Her favorite setter is with the party.

$5,000 NETTED BY GRAND OPERA

Amount Reported 'Over and Above' Expenses—
H. M. Atkinson Is Re-lected To Head Club.

BY HERB MCUSKER.

Grand opera in Atlanta the week of April 25-30, just past, netted exactly $5,000 "over and above" expenses.
It is particularly pleasing bit of news was divulged to members of the Atlanta Opera club in annual session in the pompous room of the Biltmore hotel Wednesday night by Charles Howard Chandler, treasurer, who in a three-minute speech told his hearers something they had been waiting to hear.

For not only was opera season this year one of the most successful from a financial viewpoint since the Metropolitan Opera company inaugurated its annual excursion to the city 17 years ago, but the presentation itself was Atlanta's most notable achievement inasmuch as no more opera than

DUNNING TO QUIT PROHIBITION JOB

Savannah Customs Collector To Relinquish Duties as Dry Coordinator for Southeast.

Washington, May 25.—(AP)—M. O.
Dunning, collector of customs at Savannah, Ga., soon is to relinquish his duties as prohibition coordinator for the southeastern states, including Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and North Carolina.

At a conference here yesterday
with Assistant Secretary Andrews, Collector Dunning outlined the program that had been made in the coordinating of the work of the prohibition, coast guard and customs services.

A successor to Dunning as coordinator has not yet been selected.

FLOOD INUNDATES 15 MORE TOWNS

Gloomy Atmosphere Per-

Farmer Folk Gather Possessions.

BY E. W. LEWIS.

New Orleans, La., May 25.—
(United News.)—Fifteen small towns in Pointe Coupee parish are under a yellow sheet of water tonight as the flood tide pours through the crevasse at McCrea on the Atchafalaya and into the lands between the river and the Mississippi.

Few sadder sights have come during the great disaster, according to Red Cross workers, than those probitioned by the French farmer folk who ruefully piled their belongings into their great mule-drawn wag-

WAR PLANS LAID TO GREAT BRITAIN

Raid on Arcos Ltd.
Caused by England's Desire to Break Relations, Litvinov Charges.

BY VICTOR W. KNAUTH.

Moscow, May 25.—(United News.) Great Britain is "pushing toward war," M. M. Litvinov, assistant commissioner for foreign affairs, charged tonight in the first official Russian statement issued since Premier Baldwin, in London, announced an imminent rupture in Russo-British relations.

"The break of Anglo-soviet relations is not being made as a result of the recent raid on Arcos, Ltd., and the headquarters of the Russian trade delegation in London," Litvinov declared, "but instead the raid resulted from determination of Great Britain to break relations."

"This action can mean only that England is pushing toward war, because she is determined to break relations."

MILLICAN WINS ALDERMAN POST FROM C. M. FORD

Complete Unofficial Returns Give Old Charter
8,008 Votes Against 3,901 for New.

MILLICAN VICTOR
BY MARGIN OF 202

Turner, Barrett, Orme, Drennon, Lyle Are Winners in Other Council-
manic Contests.

Citizens of Atlanta Wednesday declined to approve a city manager charter for Atlanta by a vote of more than 2 to 1, and elected C. Everett Millican as alderman from the tenth ward to succeed Charles M. Ford, thus registering the only upset of the entire election.

The unofficial charter vote, as compiled by The Constitution, stood 3,901 for the proposed new form of government and 8,008 against, a difference of 4,107. A total of 11,909 votes were cast in the election, despite the rains which in the early morning prevented heavy balloting.

Complete unofficial returns in the tenth ward aldermanic contest gave Millican 4,295; Ford 4,093, a difference of 202 votes. Mr. Ford carried his home ward by a vote of more than two to one, registering 125 votes against 340 for his opponent. He won the fourth ward by a bare majority of one vote, and was winner in four others.

Carried Three Wards.
The new charter proposal carried only three of the 12 wards of the city, and the ninth ward, where opposition leaders conceded that it would carry by a substantial majority, polled only 192 majority for it.

Leaders in behalf of the present charter attributed a majority of 1,269 against the proposal in the third ward to the influence of Alderman William B. Hartsfield, who, under the influence of the late Mayor William B. Hartsfield, was one of the staunchest champions
of the present form of city government as opposed to the new charter. They also declared that an "unwarranted" attack pro charter forces launched against him while he was dangerously ill was reflected in the final ward tabulation, which gave the new charter 280 votes and 1,540 against it.

Dr. J. E. Turner defeated his opponent, Cecil G. Allen, for councilman of the second ward, 413 to 194; Ellis B. Barrett won the nomination from the fifth, 660 to 354 over his opponent, Dr. William Cawhern.
Councilman A. J. Orme was renominated over his adversary, Hoke O'Kel-ley, by a majority of three to one,
the count being Orme 745; O'Kelley 216. Raleigh Drennon was nominated to council from the ninth ward by a vote of 718 to 267 of his opponent, Hon. Foster, George B. Lyle defeated two opponents and obtained a majority required for the nomination

IDENTIFY SUSPECT HELD FOR BOYKIN

The mysterious suspect now held in Fulton tower and questioned by Solicitor General John A. Boykin in connection with the sensational murder of Bert Donaldson, admitted Wednesday that he is the "Jack Peacock" named in an affidavit sworn to by Mrs. M. J. Clifford, formerly of 625 Peachtree street, and used by the solicitor in extradition proceedings seeking to return to Atlanta Ralph B. Lovett from Arkansas, in connection with the murder case.

The suspect, told Eugene Dickey, attorney for Jack Lance, who was convicted on May 7 of a charge of conspiracy in the murder and who is sentenced to die in the electric chair on June 17, that the solicitor had been questioning him in regard to his activities in Atlanta shortly before the murder and regarding visits of several persons to his room in the Clifford home.

The attorney said that he had not been employed by the suspect, but that several friends of "Peacock" had been in conference with him regarding the case.

Story of Woman.

In the affidavit of Mrs. Clifford used in the Arkansas extradition hearing of Lovett, Peacock is alleged to have rented a room in Mrs. Clifford's home several days before the murder of Donaldson and on several occasions Jack Lance and others under indictment for complicity in the murder visited Peacock's room. On the night of the murder a bellboy from the Georgian Terrace hotel is said to have visited Peacock's room. Peacock, according to Mrs. Clifford, vacated the room about 12 o'clock on the night the murder occurred and has not returned. A shotgun was seen in Peacock's closet during his stay in the home, Mrs. Clifford swore.

Solicitor Boykin, when questioned regarding the suspect's identity and reasons for his being held in Fulton tower, declared that he "did not care to discuss the case and that maybe he would not hold the man." "I just wanted him for questioning in regard to the case," he added.

Reward Offered.

Governor Clifford Walker Wednesday announced the offer of a $250 reward for his being held in Fulton tower, one of the 12 men under indictment for complicity in the slaying of the noted "bunco" sleuth, a member of the solicitor's staff.

The offer was made at the request of Solicitor Boykin, who stated in a letter to the governor, that Batchelor was a fugitive and that he believed that the posting of a reward would hasten his capture.

SAMUEL FORTSON NEAL OF THOMSON, PASSES

Samuel Fortson Neal, 52, city clerk of Thomson, Ga., for the past 15 years, died suddenly at his home Wednesday afternoon, according to word received here.

Mr. Neal was a native of Wilkes county and has spent practically all of his life in Thomson. During the past 20 years he has taken an active interest in civic affairs.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, eastern time, from the home, The Rev. J. C. Robbins will officiate and interment will follow in West View cemetery of Thomson, with Avery & Lowndes Co. in charge.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Plennie Mildred Neal; a son, Ben A. Neal; a stepson, Clarence Brown, of Chester, S. C.; three brothers, Ben A. Neal, editor of the Millen News, Millen, Ga.; G. W. Neal, of West Point, Ga.; and H. F. Neal, of Washington, Ga.; and a sister, Mrs. M. W. Turner, of Pelham, Ga.

PEACHES BRING $1 PER CRATE; MELONS GO DOWN

Georgia peaches are selling at $4 per basket crate in northern markets in sections where their fruit trees are just beginning to bloom. It was revealed in the weekly market review of the federal bureau of agriculture.

The peach movement in Georgia is expected to receive additional momentum next week with the later varieties of Rosa and Carman, the report said.

Florida watermelons that last week commanded a peak price of 1.00 a carload wholesale in Chicago, dropped to from $850 to $850, according to size, as shipments increased during the week. The total shipments for the week amounted to 210 cars.

The output of various early shipping sections is decreasing, the report said, and mid-season crops here and there have been delayed. Prices continued to show an upward trend for tomatoes and held at about recent levels for apples, cabbage, onions, lettuce and most of the lesser truck products. Like onions, cantaloupes showed the usual downward tendency from high opening prices.

Strawberries sold from 2 cents to 10 cents lower per quart, in the east but midwestern markets showed no special range and continued to bring fairly high prices for fancy fruit.

The delay of the mid-season tomato crop prolonged the market season for early tomatoes and prices advanced 25 cents to $1 in many northern markets.

Georgia Is Fourth In Spinning Hours Among Mill States

Georgia ranked fourth among all the states in the total number of active spinning hours for cotton spindles in April, being exceeded only by Massachusetts and North and South Carolina, the federal department of commerce has announced.

The Georgia spindles in place on April 30 totaled 972,154, of which 2,314,570 were active during the month. The total active spindle hours for the state that month were 822,325,565, while the average per spindle in place was 300 hours.

Cotton growing states led the country in all respects in the twisting of fiber, while New England was second.

WARDE FUNERAL RITES HELD HERE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Penton Taylor Warde, 78, retired cotton buyer of Milner, Ga., who died Tuesday morning at 470 Copenhill avenue, N. E., the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. A. West, were held Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock from the chapel of Barclay & Brandon. The Rev. J. D. Russell, of Druid Hills Methodist church, officiated, and the body was taken to Hartselle, where it was placed in the family mausoleum.

Mr. Warde was a native of Forsyth, Ga., and was prominently connected in Monroe, Upson and Pike counties.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. West and Mrs. C. B. Cauthen, of Atlanta; Mrs. W. H. Chambers, of Quitman; Mrs. David Plessert, of New York city, and Mrs. C. P. Persons, of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Clarke, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Lena W. Morris, of Griffin.

ATLANTA MISSING, WIFE IS WORRIED

Disappearance of J. I. Bennett, mechanic, who left Atlanta about a month ago to seek work in Columbia, Tenn., and who has not been heard from for the past two weeks, led his wife, Mrs. Bertha Bennett, of 105 Berean avenue, to ask The Constitution's aid in searching for her husband. She is confident it is not a case of desertion and fears he has been killed or is sick and cannot get word to her.

According to the description furnished by Mrs. Bennett, the missing man is 36 years of age, 5 feet, 9 inches high, has brown eyes and black hair and wears the initials "J. I." on his left arm. When last heard from he was working for the William Dean Marble company, in Columbia, where he stopped after originally setting out for Louisville, Ky.

FRED ELLIOTT'S BODY LAID TO LAST REST

Funeral services for Fred Elliott, 43, of 6 Clarendon avenue, Avondale, who died at a private sanitarium after a short illness at 1 o'clock Wednesday, will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Father Phillips Hannon will officiate, and interment will be in Zion's churchyard. S. M. Greenberg company is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Elliott is survived by his widow and three daughters, Elizabeth, Helen and Sara Elliott.

ATLANTA CHOSEN BY PRESBYTERIANS

El Dorado, Ark., May 25.—(AP)—The 1928 convention of the Presbyterian Church in the United States will be held in Atlanta.

The invitation came from the Central Presbyterian church.

Christian missionaries will go back to China as they are permitted to do so, and will take up the challenge brought about by the situation which has compelled their evacuation. Dr. P. F. Price, for 37 years a missionary in China, told the general assembly today.

The present situation, with missionaries evacuated and the Chinese church forced to stand alone does not mean that 60 years of labor has collapsed," Dr. Price asserted. "It is a challenge, and by the grace of God we shall yet go back."

The assembly at the forenoon session today selected Atlanta as the 1928 meeting place.

Dr. Price narrowly escaped with his life during the disorders at Nanking on March 24. He was a member of the faculty of the Nanking Theological seminary.

The minister held the assembly spellbound while he related how he was held captive by soldiers and toyed with after the fashion of "cat and mouse" for more than eight hours before friends effected his rescue.

"Missionaries never were needed more in China than they are today," Dr. Price continued. "But it will be a new type of missionary that will go back. There will be no adventures."

Dr. Price described the shooting of Dr. Williams, who died at the hands of the nationalist soldiers, and other incidents, including the firing of the American gunboat, which he declared was not a bombardment of the city but a protective barrage thrown at it.

AMERICAN GIRLS ARE PRESENTED AT BUCKINGHAM

London, May 25.—(AP)—This was the eve of Queen Mary's birthday anniversary and the second court at Buckingham palace was even gayier than that of yesterday.

Few diplomats or officials appeared tonight but the general circle was much larger and the attendance number nearly one thousand. The royal circle included Prince Henry and Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught.

Eight Americans were presented by Mrs. Houghton, wife of the American ambassador, all dressed gorgeously and grandly. They were the Misses Grace Cody, Pauline Day and Josephine Flood of New York; Miss Eleanor Wendell, Summit, N. J.; Mrs. Joseph Sherry, of Randolph, Vt.; Mrs. Lowell Pinkerton, Washington; Mrs. Myron Taylor, New York, and Mrs. George Webb, Indianapolis.

Over fifty years ago Ice was manufactured

Dr. John Gorrie, of Apalachicola, Fla., in 1850, patented a practical process for making ice—and since 1870 ice has been successfully manufactured and used as a household necessity.

ICE
Nature's Way of Refrigeration.
A Product of Local Industry

And product that has been successfully manufactured and used for over fifty years must have merit. Today there are over six thousand model ice plants manufacturing and delivering forty-two million tons annually of the luxury-commodity known as ice.

The ice industry is pledged to the necessity of insuring an adequate supply and to maintain facilities for efficient delivery service, and stands ready to serve you ice in the desired quantity at any time. A block of "frozen purity" in your refrigerator never fails to function and is just as dependable as "Old Sol" coming over the eastern hills every morning.

All mechanical substitutes for ice are expensive and uncertain, and are in an experimental stage. Ice has been used since the time of Adam, and has no substitute.

How to avoid the CROWDED HOUR

Try placing long-distance calls during the 7 to 8:30 P. M. reduction period

FROM seven to eight-thirty in the evening is probably the best time at which to make a station-to-station long distance telephone call at reduced rates. For one thing the folks you are calling are more apt to be at home, and then, too, we are usually able to complete the connection in shorter time.

Of course, the rates on station-to-station long distance calls are reduced still further at 8:30 P. M. Promptly at this moment, thousands of hands reach for the telephone. The result is that, in spite of all the extra facilities we provide, the lines to near and distant places are taxed to capacity.

To avoid this crowded hour, try placing your calls between 7 and 8:30 P. M.

How to place a Station-to-Station Call

If you know the number of the distant telephone, simply say to the long distance operator: "This is Hemlock 1234. Mr. Jones calling. I want to place a station-to-station call to Main 3648, Kansas City."

If you do not know the number of the desired telephone, say: "This is Hemlock 1234. Mr. Jones calling—I want to place a station-to-station call to the telephone of L. Q. Jones, 122 Broad Street, Kansas City."

$7,000,000 LINER FIGURES IN CRASH

New York, May 25.—The Matson liner, Malolo, pride of all ocean-going vessels built in the United States, with four feet of water in her fire rooms and unable to proceed on her own power, lay off Nantuxet Light, Wednesday night waiting for a fleet of tugs to tow her into New York.

Six hours earlier, the Malolo, making her trial voyage up the coast from the Cramp shipyards at Philadelphia to Rockland, Me., had been rammed by the Norwegian freighter, Jacob Christensen. A heavy fog shrouded the seas, which were choppy.

Through the fog came a barrage of distress signals. All along the coast from New York to Boston wireless companies reported the accident. At first it was believed that the palatial vessel, which had been built at a cost of $7,000,000 for service between San Francisco and Honolulu, was sinking. For a long period—more than three hours—no land stations were able to communicate with the Malolo.

Then came a wireless from William P. Roth, president of the Matson company, to his agents in New York and Philadelphia, saying that although the fire rooms were filling with water, the ship was in no immediate danger. There were no casualties and she was waiting a tow to New York.

The accident had occurred at a point where eastward and transatlantic traffic was heavy and numerous ships reported by radio that they were standing by or going to the Malolo's aid. Four tugs from New York went out to tow her in and it was expected that she would be brought into port Thursday morning.

The Malolo carried a crew of 100 and about 50 guests.

LURID BILLBOARD ADS ARE BLAMED FOR THRIFT LACK

Oakland, Cal., May 25.—(AP)—"Lurid advertisements" were blamed for the lack of American thrift by speakers at a "thrift" luncheon held here today by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

A. J. Gray, of the Los Angeles Savings association, placed squarely upon the advanced American art of advertising the blame for lack of thrift in adults and young children. So inviting are the store windows and elsewhere, that one unconsciously reacts to the appeal by buying too many non-essentials, Gray declared.

Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, of Dallas, Texas, national chairman of the thrift committee, told the delegates that California and Washington led all other states in thrift.

The congress also discussed suicides of students and dissension in the family.

PROGRESS REPORTED AT MINERS' PARLEY

Philadelphia, May 25.—(AP)—Some progress was made today in the efforts of the union miners and operators of the central Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields to negotiate a new wage agreement to take the place of the contract which expired March 31 last.

After two days of discussion of conditions in the Pennsylvania soft coal fields and the situation in the bituminous territory generally, a sub-scale committee of six members each was appointed to get down to work and attempt to arrive at a basis for negotiations. The fact that the miners remained to continue the discussion after the operators had intimated that any new wage basis would have to be under the Jacksonville scale, gave the operators hope, they said, that a new pact would be negotiated.

PORTER IN TOWER, SAYS M'LENDON

promptly jailed, and has been held in Fulton County Jail since March 24. The State Treasurer William J. Spear, on official report of the shortage made some weeks ago by Secretary McLendon, made formal demand for the money on Cook, but failed to receive it. A full report of the situation was thereupon made to Governor Clifford Walker who instructed Attorney General Napier to investigate the entire situation.

Full Report Made.

The letter from Secretary McLendon to the attorney general goes into full detail as to the receipts, deposits and reports of the window department, of which Cook was in charge, not only for the week in question but for the five days preceding. Photographic copies of all applications for motor licenses, of bank and treasury deposits, of the cashier's daily reports and all other documents involved in the business of the window for the days covered, are furnished.

The reports, which Secretary McLendon states, were personally made by Cook, show that receipts and deposits balanced exactly at the close of business on March 24.

The reports as to deposits in the state treasury, for this period, do not match the treasury records day by day though the total for the week does balance, it is shown.

After March 24, however, Secretary McLendon declares that Cook filed no reports of deposits for March 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31, though he did file reports of receipts for these days. Photographic copies of these receipts are presented.

On March 31, the statement proceeds, Arthur T. Harris, chief clerk of the department, demanded of Cook that records of deposits for the seven days, he filed. On the afternoon of the same day auditors took charge of the department.

$16,647 Received.
The reports of receipts made by Cook show a total of $16,647.20 paid into the window department for the period. There was $3,567.79 deposited in the bank and $11 in stamps on hand, leaving a balance of $13,068.41 to be accounted for, the statement shows.

Of this, it continues, the auditors found $3,937.27 in cash and $647.16 in checks on hand, leaving a balance of $8,483.98 unaccounted for.

Mr. McLendon asserts that the records, as submitted, completely support the daily reports filed by Cashier Cook.

"A shortage exists," says Secretary McLendon, "it has repeatedly been confessed, of over $8,000, by C. A. Cook, and, as stated by the auditor to be $8,483.98. Not a dollar was paid by the cashier between the 25th and 31st on account of collections made during these days, except the amounts before mentioned."

"The first intimation," the letter continues, "I had of any shortage, came on Saturday morning, April 2, when A. T. Harris, chief clerk, reported that C. A. Cook, cashier of the window department, was short $8,483.98."

"This shortage consisted in the failure of Cashier Cook to deposit the full amount, which his own records show was in his hands, in the treasury, and this failure began with March 25 and ended with March 31. An attempt having been made on March 22 to steal $500 from the safe, resulting in the immediate arrest and imprisonment of the porter attempting the theft, it would seem that the cashier of the window department would have been extremely particular not to permit a theft of any size, collections for March 25 to March 31, inclusive, although the porter who attempted the theft on March 22 was during that time, March 25 to March 31, in Fulton County Jail."

"On Monday, April 4, Mr. Threant Moore was put in charge of the window department," the letter concludes.

ops. The roads eastward through the parish all day long were nearly invisible from above, according to naval aviators. Great clouds of dust hid the long caravans of people fleeing before the creeping waters.

Thousands Must Move.

The sight will gradually extend southward as the waters move nearer and nearer to the Gulf, now 120 miles or more away. All this territory must succumb to the tide and each day will bring thousands more simple farming folk on the march.

Major John Gotwald, United States engineer corps, said today a fleet of 200 various boats, ranging from steamers to shifts, awaits word to enter the inundated area of the eastern sugar bowl. It appeared, however, the craft will find no refugees.

The entire area of inundation tonight, now comprising at least 120 square miles, was without a solitary inhabitant, relief headquarters at Baton Rouge was convinced. These people have known for weeks of their danger and have moved in time.

The Baton Rouge camp has received but 3,000 persons from this fertile parish of Pointe Coupee. Most of them have preferred to live on their own.

200 Arrive By Boat.

Out below the vast spread of the delta of the Atchafalaya, a like picture of migration could be drawn. At Lafayette today 200 Acadia farmers, their wives and children from the towns in lower St. Martin parish arrived by boat. They had waited too long and lost their stock.

The fleet of oyster shacks, fishing smacks and coast guard cutters swung at anchor in Grand lake near Morgan City, La., tonight. The fleet is ready,

Great 'Perry-Marietta' Motorcade Passes Five Points

The motorcade of over 100 automobiles which officially opened the 149-mile stretch of continuous paving from Perry to Marietta reached the heart of Atlanta a little after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. The clock at the right of the above picture shows that it was just about 6:13 when the head of the motorcade passed Five Points.

but there is nothing for it to do as yet. Everyone who wants to go out has gone and those still remaining in the upper floors of their homes want to see the water a foot higher before leaving.

The spillway commission composed of United States engineers, met here today and at an open hearing heard various proposals for solving the problem of flood control of this great river.

A system of spillways was proposed and conversion of the artificial break at Podras below here into a permanent outlet was asked by local engineers.

CAERNARVAN CREVASSE MAY BE MADE PERMANENT.

New Orleans, May 25.—(AP)—A suggestion that the Caernarvan crevasse below New Orleans be left open permanently to insure the safety of the city was made today by John M. Klorer, commissioner of public works, at open meeting of the spillway board.

The suggestion of Commissioner Klorer was included among the proposals for a system of three spillways in the lower valley to divert the flood waters of the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico through other channels.

One of the proposed spillways would lead the waters into the Atchafalaya. Another would lead them into either Lake Maurepas or Lake Pontchartrain at a point between Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

UNIFORM PLAN MADE FOR RECONSTRUCTION.

Little Rock, Ark., May 25.—(AP)—A uniform plan for the reconstruction of the flood-stricken Mississippi valley was formulated today at a conference between the Secretary of Commerce Hoover and the flood reconstruction directors of the three hardest hit states—Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

In a statement after the conference Mr. Hoover declared that "the water had receded from 80 per cent of the inundated land and Arkansas is coming back very fast."

To give the homeless farmers "a new start in life" as soon as the water flows off their lands, Mr. Hoover said each inundated county of the three states would receive emergency funds for the purchase of seed and food and other supplies to be distributed immediately upon their return to their homes. This method, in the opinion of Mr. Hoover, will give an impetus to the reconstruction work. A fund of approximately $2,000,000 was tentatively set for this used and its distribution will be made as soon as county agricultural authorities estimate the necessary funds for their sections after the receding of the flood.

siding and with John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board; Henderson Hallman, George West, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce; B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce, and other Atlanta citizens as principals.

Round of Affairs.

All day the tourists traveled through one welcome affair after another. Leaving Perry, Ga., at 8 o'clock the good roads people went to Macon, Forsyth, Barnesville, Griffin, Hampton, Jonesboro and Atlanta.

At Macon nearly the entire city and county officialdom turned out to welcome the party. A breakfast was served under direction of the Lanier hotel, after which the caravan left for Atlanta.

The first stop after Macon was made at Forsyth. A drizzling rain was falling but the tourists drove to the grounds of Bessie Titt college where the college girls turned out to welcome the party. The rain prevented a formal program at the college which was planned and the tourists proceeded on to Barnesville. A short stay was made at Barnesville where soft drinks and sandwiches were served visitors. From Barnesville the party proceeded to Griffin where the first movement to celebrate completion of this stretch of highway was launched. Judge J. J. Flynt, of Griffin, headed the reception committee.

Luncheon was served the members of the party at the Griffin hotel after which an adjournment was taken to a point on the Spalding-Henry county line where the last cement on the highway was laid.

Judge Flynt presided at these exercises with Chairman Holder, of the state highway board, laying the last trowel full of cement. After these exercises the party proceeded on to Atlanta.

Last Paving Laid.

The big feature of the day as far as a paved highway to the Georgia-Alabama line at West Point, to the Georgia-North Carolina line near Murphy, and to the Georgia-Florida line near Jacksonville.

Mr. Winn made a short talk in which he outlined difficulties facing early good roads workers of the state, and told of the gradual conversion of citizens of Georgia to a general policy of building better roads.

"This is just the beginning of a great system of roads which ultimately will span this state," Mr. Winn said. "Georgia is not backward in road building, but is simply conservative. We are building good and permanent roads like this highway instead of trying to build experimental highways. In the long run this policy, although slow, will bring us a real system of roads."

Praises Women.
Mrs. Rambo, in her speech, praised the women of the state for the loyalty she said they have shown in all public causes and particularly in the cause of good roads.

"You will always find the women on the side of betterment, no matter what the subject may be," Mrs. Rambo said.

Ceremonies at the Fulton county reformatory were held under the direction of Commissioner Stewart and representatives of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce headed by Mrs. West and Mr. Barker.

Music for the programs at Macon, Perry, Forsyth, Barnesville, Griffin and Hapeville was furnished by Municipal band of Fitzgerald which was brought to Atlanta by Isadore Golders of Fitzgerald, president of the Central Dixie Highway association. Fitzgerald citizens brought 25 cars to the motorcade, provided the band and also some of the leading speakers.

The delegation arrived in Atlanta late Wednesday afternoon and established headquarters at the Ansley hotel. The association of county commissioners of Georgia will hold its meeting Thursday and Friday. The visitors of the motorcade and the delegates to the convention will be taken by the Atlanta Convention bureau to Stone Mountain and Marietta today.

Fred Houser, of the convention bureau, assisted Grand Marshal Stewart in arranging details of the tour.

The stretch of highway which was opened Wednesday runs through the very heart of Georgia from Perry, in Houston county, to Atlanta. The distance of the paved stretch is 149.8 miles and some of the cars in covering the stretch Tuesday made this trip in less than three hours.

Before the motorcade reached Hapeville, a short stay was made at Jonesboro where an address of welcome was delivered by Judge John B. Euteleson, of the Stone Mountain circuit. Mayor Eugene B. King, of Hapeville, and Commissioner Stewart then took charge of the party and took the visitors to the grounds of the Boys' Reformatory where a business dinner was served.

C. B. Jones, of Liberty county, president of the Georgia Association of County Commissioners, brought a delegation of 12 Liberty county citizens for the motorcade.

AUCTION

BEAUTIFUL HEAVILY WOODED BUILDING SITES, IN THE FINEST RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT IN ATLANTA, SELLING AT AUCTION FROM $1,350.00 TO $3,600.00. FRONTAGE FROM 60 TO 150 FEET, WITH ALL IMPROVEMENTS IN AND PAID FOR.

GARDEN HILLS COMPARED TO ANSLEY PARK—The location of Garden Hills has been compared to that of Ansley Park, because, both of them lie directly between and front on Peachtree Road and Piedmont Avenue. They are also similar because of the fact that when Ansley Park was developed and sold at public auction, it bore the same relation to the center of Atlanta as Garden Hills does today.

In one block in Ansley Park, the following increases in value are shown by the records: A corner lot, originally sold for $9,500.00 in 1911, was purchased in 1913 for $14,000, as the site for a handsome home. The next lot, originally sold in 1908 for $2,325.00 was resold in 1920 for $6,750.00 and again in 1921 for $8,500.00. Another lot sold in 1909 for $2,800.00, in 1911 for $3,250.00 and in 1917 for $13,500.00.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND THIS SALE—You will be able to buy a home site in Garden Hills with every improvement, at from one-half to one-third of their actual value. Remember Garden Hills is the last large tract of land available for residential development between Peachtree Road and Piedmont Avenue.

DON'T DELAY a day longer than is absolutely necessary. The very lot you want today may be sold tomorrow. Don't let this chance to buy at your own price in this wonderful section slip by you. Thousands of folks who delayed, when Ansley Park was put on the market at public auction, never bought, and lived to regret it.

Who Will Be Selected In Constitution's Contest?

21 WEEKS ON STAGE IS FIRST PRIZE

All aboard for the bright lights of Broadway, a magnificent tour of the country as a star in a big theatrical production and a triumphal return to Atlanta as a full-fledged star of the stage. This is the opportunity the Constitution now is dangling before some talented girl of Atlanta who is unmarried and between the ages of 18 and 25.

The Constitution, in association with the Howard theater, is staging an "opportunity contest" to discover hidden talent in Atlanta. In this contest the winner will be given a 21 weeks' engagement in the production of "Young America" which will be offered July 9 at New York. She will receive a free trip to New York, $75 a week for 21 weeks and will get invaluable stage training.

Girls who can sing, dance, play musical instruments, act or recite have opportunities to win prizes. First prize is the engagement in "Young America" as "Miss Atlanta," second prize is $100 in cash, third prize $50 and fourth prize is Publicity check, good in any Public theater in the country.

Last year The Constitution staged a "Charleston Contest" in association with the Howard theater and the Public corporation. Miss Trinz Jackson won first prize which was an engagement of 12 weeks with the John Mayras Anderson production of "Charleston." This year the first prize is a 21 weeks' engagement. Miss Jackson made good from the start and now is giving a successful engagement in New York.

Other Atlanta girls have equal opportunities in this contest to win success just as Miss Jackson did last year. To enter, the contestant must send a late photograph to the "Opportunity Editor" of The Constitution before June 3. The picture must be in by that time or it will not be considered. Girls who do not possess a late photograph may go to Stephenson's studio in the Connally building and have a photograph made free.

Public audition will be given girls selected from photographs at the Howard theater the week of June 5-11. Finals in the contest will be given on the night of June 11. The successful girl will go to New York on June 24 to enjoy a series of entertainments to be given prior to the first production of "Young America" on July 9.

DAHLONEGA COLLEGE SEEKS NAME CHANGE

Dahlonega, Ga., May 25.—(Special.) At a mass meeting of the students of the North Georgia Agricultural college here this morning a resolution was unanimously adopted urging those in authority to change the name of the institution to "Georgia State College."

The resolution sets forth that "It must be obvious to all that the present name is a misnomer, that it is misleading to the general public, that it localizes and restricts the usefulness of the institution and greatly retards the growth of the same." The resolution further declares that "There could be no legitimate objection to the adoption of the name 'Georgia State College.'"

Student leaders declare that since the creation of the District A. & M. schools, the public usually thinks of the college as a high school. They further state that since the establishment of this branch of the university 54 years ago, conditions and the curriculum have changed to such an extent that the present name is no longer applicable.

COUNTY OFFICERS CONVENING HERE

Many county commissioners representing various sections of Georgia had arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night for the thirteenth annual convention of the Georgia Association of County Commissioners which convenes at 9 o'clock this morning at the Ansley hotel.

Quite a number of these delegates arrived in the city late Wednesday afternoon and after the party disbanded at the Ansley hotel at 7 o'clock, registration of delegates began. Trains brought other delegates to the city and by 9 o'clock this morning, when the convention formally opens, more than 500 county commissioners, state and county officials are expected to be in attendance at the opening session, which will be presided over by C. B. Jones, Riceboro, Liberty county, president.

An extensive entertainment program has been provided, the Fulton commission being hosts at the annual convention dinner. J. T. Y. Nash, DeKalb county commissioner, host to the delegates at a barbecue at Stone Mountain; sight-seeing tours over the city; a visit to Agnes Scott college and other points of interest.

On Roof Garden.
Sessions of the convention will be held on the roof garden of the Ansley hotel. Today's program will get under way with the singing of "America" led by "Cousin" Fred Houser, secretary and treasurer of the association, and will be followed by an invocation by the Rev. Will Hough-ton, pastor of the Baptist tabernacle. Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the Fulton commission, Mayor J. N. Rigsdale of Atlanta, and Paul Lindsey representative in the Georgia legislature from DeKalb county, will deliver addresses of welcome.

Resolutions will be made by President Jones, G. Gunby, Jordan, Muscogee county commissioner, of Columbus and Joe Law, Burke county commissioner, of Waynesboro.

Principal speakers at the morning session will be Judge Stanley S. Bennett, of Quitman; John R. Phillips, of Louisville; R. M. Lufburrow, of Atlanta, and others.

Barbecue at Noon.
Following appointment of committees, annual reports of officers and announcements and introduction of resolutions, the delegates will take automobiles at 12:15 o'clock for Stone Mountain, where J. T. Y. Nash, DeKalb county commissioner, will entertain with a barbecue in front of the Confederate monument at Stone Mountain.

The official picture of the convention will be taken at the barbecue and all delegates and their friends are requested to be on hand at 1 o'clock. After the barbecue members of the DeKalb chamber of commerce, the DeKalb Civic club and the Stone Mountain post of the American Legion will show the visitors the DeKalb county courthouse, Agnes Scott college and other points of interest in the county, concluding the trip at Glen Iris drive and North avenue, where a tractor demonstration has been arranged for the delegates by the Ford Motor company.

It is not the intrinsic value of the gift that makes for lasting impression, but its novelty, utility and extraordinary taste in your selection.

Most newlyweds expect to set-up housekeeping immediately, or anticipate doing so, therefore, wedding gifts which are practical for everyday rather than occasional use, are highly cherished.

From that angle, it is quite evident that a luncheon set, for instance, or a bath mat, a flower holder, a colorful piece of Holland pottery, a boudoir lamp or an end table would be far more useful, more practical, and as much appreciated as some article less serviceable.

As you stroll through the many departments of this store, each clamoring for your attention, you will find hundreds and hundreds of things that will immediately impress you as being just what you want, were you the bride.

Ask for Our Gift Book— Here Comes the Bride

In this pamphlet, containing several hundred suggestions, we have grouped them so that, after determining how much you wish to spend, you can go straight to where they are on sale.

Everyone should have a copy of this booklet for a ready reference, as it is just as helpful in selecting birthday, anniversary, graduation and remembrance gifts, as it is for weddings.

When wedding bells herald the coming of the radiant bride thoughts turn to Gifts

What shall it be? . . . Mary is such a practical girl and has, oh! so very many friends whose gifts will be the most obvious things. Let's see . . . . ?

And then you ponder. No, that will not do; I'm sure everyone will think of that, too; besides, it is embarrassing to have one's wedding gift duplicated.

Most of us approach the very pleasant but sometimes difficult problem of buying wedding gifts with our minds confused with the more or less obvious things. You know what they are.

The economy of our time and effort often leads us to give less thought to such matters, because it is perplexing. As a result, how often have you seen duplicate after duplicate spread out before the assembled guests, to the embarrassment of the donors, and the disappointment of the bride.

What a contrast to that dilemma presents itself in this store—a veritable treasure house of the most appropriate gifts, in such a bewildering array that your final selection is not made from choice, but by the process of elimination.

Here, there and everywhere . . . on every floor, in almost every department, you will find the most acceptable and appropriate gifts for the bride.

You will see a great many articles that are not generally bought as wedding gifts, but are all the more acceptable to the practical bride who is to set-up housekeeping on her return from the honeymoon.

It might surprise you, for instance, to see how many, many things there are in the House Furnishing Department alone that will suggest themselves as entirely appropriate and quite useful for a young couple.

Maybe it wouldn't occur to you that a piece of East India Brass, a Pyrex Plate, a Fire Set or a set of Andirons would be prized highly because of your thoughtfulness and practicability. Yet, on second thought, you know that they would.

When selecting wedding presents, one should ask themselves—"what, if I were the bride, would be acceptable to me?" and then act upon the impulse. From such a list thus prepared, would be articles from almost every department of this huge store.

How Much Should One Spend for a Wedding Gift?

To be sure, it depends . . . on a lot of things. There must be a price limit, of course. Everybody approaches the gift subject from that angle.

So, we have made that phase an easy one for you here, by preparing a list of appropriate articles, which you may scan for suggestions before you start on the shopping tour.

If five dollars is the price limit, you will find ever so many suggestions, quite appropriate for wedding gifts, that do not exceed $5.00. Another list embraces the things up to $10.00. Still another carries you up to $25.00, and the next one lands you in the lap of luxury sure enough. "The sky is the limit."

These lists are in pamphlet form; easy to handle, easy to find and easy to locate the department in which they are to be had. Any sales person, department head, or section manager will see that you get one immediately upon request. A phone call or a letter requesting a copy of "Here Comes the Bride," will bring the booklet to you by mail.

Accept it with our compliments, please.

SEARCH RESUMED FOR TWO FLIERS

St. Johns, N. F., May 25.—(P)—Search for the two missing French aviators, Captains Nungesser and Goh, was renewed today on the testimony of two men who reported that while working in the woods two miles inland in the vicinity of Burin Mountain, May 9, they heard a crash that might have been caused by a falling airplane.

G. A. Bartlett arrived from the Burin district today and said that Henry Collins and his son, of Paradise sound, an inlet of Placencia bay, told him that while working in the woods, about 10 o'clock Monday, May 9, they heard a crash as if some heavy object had struck the ground or the cliffs of Paradise gulch.

There was a second crash, the men reported, then an explosion. Today the father and son returned to search the vicinity in an effort to learn the cause of the crash they had heard.

The clue furnished by Collins and his son today followed the first definite report of the sighting of an airplane off the Newfoundland coast on the day Nungesser was due, when the Danish schooner Albert arrived at Belleoram and reported that she had sighted a plane 80 miles off Cape Pine.

Previous reports from persons at various points in Newfoundland that they had heard an airplane on the morning of May 9 were used to direct searching parties to what is date has proved a futile search for the missing fliers.

NEW CITY CHARTER PLAN IS DEFEATED

In the only three-cornered race for council, he received 184 votes and O. P. Walton and Earl M. Gorman received 123 and 189 votes.

Allen got 110 votes in precinct A and 84 in precinct B, according to tabulations of The Constitution, while Dr. Turner polled 196 and 217 in the respective voting places.

Barrett polled 218 in A precinct, 257 in B and 85 in C, while Goh got 300, 44 and 10, respectively.

Orme was given 379 votes in A, 71 in B and 95 in C. O'Kelley received 199, 55 and 22.

Drennon got 184 in precinct A, 262 in B and 232 in C, while Foster received 91, 87 and 187.

Lyle was given 133 in precinct A, 284 in B and 42 in C. Walton received 65, 79 and 69, in each of the respective precincts and Gorman 115, 48 and 26.

The only contest in the selection of 18 members of the city democratic executive committee was in the eleventh ward, where H. C. Denton received 165 votes, O. P. Durrington 104; J. E. Kilgore 94, and A. C. Britt 77. J. P. Wall, chairman of the present committee, received 70 votes, which eliminated him, and Mrs. Mary Allen mustered 53 votes. The four who received the highest number of votes are selected.

The charter election was to decide whether the city would cast aside the charter which has been in operation for 51 years, and adopt one offered by a group of Atlanta citizens, and known as the council-manager system.

The proposal provided for a council of 15 to handle the legislative end of the city and a chief executive officer to be known as city manager.

Total registration for the election was a little in excess of 14,000. Registration was brisk Wednesday afternoon, and it was stated at the office of the city registrar that the grand total of those entitled to vote in the charter issue was about 15,000, the smallest total in a primary election in recent years.

Both elections were held at the same time and at the same polling places, but separate ballot boxes and separate sets of election managers conducted the dual election.

Other candidates whose nominations were assured without opposition are: R. E. Pennington, to succeed himself as Alderman from the first; J. A. Allen, to succeed himself as alderman from the fifth; Samuel A. Wardlaw, for councilman from the first; Ren T. Huiett, for councilman from the third; John A. White, for councilman on the fourth; Jack Hardy, for councilman from the sixth; J. T. Ogborn, for councilman from the seventh; E. Frank Callaway, for councilman from the tenth, and Tom M. Smith, for councilman from the twelfth.

Members of the city democratic executive committee who were elected without opposition were: First, Mrs. J. H. Anderson, Mrs. G. K. Churchhill, J. L. Deane, W. W. Stephens, second, C. S. Brooks, J. H. Bush, W. D. Crow and Mrs. Howard McCutcheon; third, A. H. Everett, Alf Levy, C. P. Martin and C. L. Taylor; fourth, Dr. Samuel Green, F. A. Hollingsworth, W. H. Lewis and Fred Stindholm; fifth, Dr. H. O. Reed, Dr. C. W. Childs, Claude Leithers, and S. W. Sharp; sixth, E. E. Bell, Mrs. W. R. Beattie, O. E. Blocker and Holmes Joyner; seventh, A. G. Callaway, W. C. Jenkins, R. E. Dewberry, C. E. Frazier and W. N. Lantry; eighth, Julian V. Bosh, Charles W. Outlaw and E. M. Rosier; ninth, Leathers and Sam Salzman; tenth, George B. Haley, W. J. Lany, George N. McLarty, Jr., and T. C. Smith; twelfth, B. J. Bay, L. E. Dewberry, C. E. Frazier and W. N. Lantry.

Raleigh Drennon, who was selected to represent the ninth ward as councilman, succeeded Horace Russell, who failed to offer for reelection, issued a statement in which he thanked his friends and declared he would "seek to serve Atlanta to the best of my ability."

"I am grateful for the honor my fellow citizens have bestowed on me, and shall try with every faculty of my being to merit the confidence and trust thus imposed on me," Mr. Drennon said. "I wish to thank my loyal supporters and to say that I will endeavor to serve all interests for the betterment of Atlanta."

United Atlanta Is Urged In Post-Election Statements

Appeals for harmony and unity, to carry Atlanta forward to a greater goal, were issued late Wednesday night following defeat of the proposed new city charter, and after results in the city primary had been tabulated by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and Judge E. C. Kontz.

Miss Eleanor Raoul, secretary of the citizens charter committee, which led the unsuccessful fight for the new charter, issued a statement in which she declared that the failure of many citizens to vote caused her more regret than losing the fight.

Mayor Ragsdale appealed for a more united citizenry and urged that, as the city charter was defeated, the citizens should build programs, the support and encouragement of every Atlanta citizen be given freely.

Judge Kontz, leading figure in the successful fight to defeat the city-manager system of government for this city, also appealed for harmony and united action in pushing Atlanta forward.

Mayor Ragsdale's statement follows: "Another election is over, and we should all be very thankful. Sometimes I wish elections did not come so often. It is very often gone and things in a heated campaign that we should not and are sorry for afterwards. This has possibly occurred in the campaign that is just past."

"Now that the battle is over, whether we are on the winning side or not, let us all line up under the flag for Atlanta, the best city on the continent, made up of the noblest people of God's creation. From this day on let us resolve to speak kindly of our city and her people and contribute our very best to make Atlanta bigger and better."

"We are just now entering on a building program that means much for us in a business way and we need the support and encouragement of every good citizen. May we not have it? Let's adopt the slogan 'All for Atlanta, first, last and all the time.'"

Kontz's statement follows: "Another of Atlanta's periodic changes for elections has come and gone and Atlanta has again, as usual, in no uncertain terms refused to have a king. The large vote which has been cast, as in the past, for a new charter cannot and should not be ignored as indicating the desire of many of our good citizens for something new."

"I believe that the people of Atlanta do want to preserve the essentials of the government under which Atlanta has prospered beyond that of all our fair sisters of our southern and midland states. The best of the best of our great republic."

"Our public officials cannot ignore the record of this day. I have said to them, who have come through this heated campaign without the record of one charge of graft, that they should appreciate the compliment and strive as never before to merit the good will and approval of those whom they thus serve."

"Those who have fought with me against the proposed new charter have at no time indulged in any rancor or personalities whatever. We have had no object but the public weal and as we were ready to accept the verdict had it been contrary to our views, we trust that those who voted for the new charter and ourselves may go on from this day more strongly united for the advancement of the glory of Atlanta."

working ever for the upbuilding of our state and country."

Miss Eleanor Raoul made the following statement on the heels of announcement of the outcome of the voting Wednesday: "That the city manager charter did not pass is to be regretted, because it would have meant untold benefit to those in moderate and poor circumstances and to school children. The history of all change is that people who benefit most realize it last. It is only a question of time before Atlanta will wake up to municipal progress and adopt the council manager form of government."

"There is one thing I regret far more than losing the charter, and that is the fact that people did not vote. Democracy is on trial in our generation, and the only thing that can save it is the acceptance of the ballot as a civic duty by all who are eligible to vote. As long as disinterested citizens

NEW FORD CAR PROMISED SOON

Detroit, May 25.—Early production of a new Ford car which is promised to be superior in design and performance to any now available in the low-priced, light car field, was announced today by the Ford Motor company. Henry Ford, designer of the car, and Edsel Ford, president of the company, both stated that within the next few weeks they will give a complete description of the new model.

The model "T" Ford will continue to be a substantial factor in Ford production, in view of the fact that about 10,000,000 cars of this model are still in use and will require replacements, parts and service.

"The model 'T' Ford car was a pioneer," said Henry Ford today. "There were no cars when we first made it. There were few good roads. This car blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It is still the pioneer car in many parts of the world, which are just beginning to be motorized. But conditions in this country have so greatly changed that further refinement in motor car construction is now desirable and our new model is a recognition of this."

"Beside the model 'T' itself, another revolutionary element which the Ford Motor company introduced 20 years ago was the idea of service. Some of the early manufacturers proceeded on the theory that once they had induced a man to buy a car they had him at their mercy; they charged him the highest possible price for necessary replacements. Our company adopted the opposite theory. We believed that a man bought one of our cars who should keep it running for him as long as we could and at the lowest upkeep cost. That was the origin of Ford service."

"With the new Ford we propose to continue in the light car field which we created on the same basis of quantity production we have always worked, giving high quality, low price and constant service. We began work on this new model several years ago. In fact, the idea of a new car has been in our mind much longer than that. But the sale of the model 'T' continued at such a pace that there never seemed to be an opportunity to get a new car started. "Even now the business is so brisk that we are up against the proposition of keeping the factory going on one model while we tool up for another. I am glad of this because it will necessitate a total shutdown. Only a comparatively few men will be out at a time while their departments are being tool up for the new product. At our time it looked like 70,000 men might be laid off temporarily but we have now scaled that down to less than 25,000 at a time. The lay-off will be brief, because we need the men and we have no time to waste. "At present I can only say this about the new model: It has speed, style, flexibility and control in traffic. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price. The new car will cost more to manufacture, but it will be more economical to operate."

M. L. LEDFORD HEADS STATE ODD FELLOWS

Griffin, Ga., May 25.—(Special.)—Election by acclamation of M. L. Ledford, of Cairo, as grand master of Georgia Odd Fellows was the feature of today's session of the grand lodge convened here which opened Tuesday.

Atlanta was chosen as next year's meeting place.

Mrs. E. E. Bodenhamer, of Decatur, was elected president of the Rebekahs, women's auxiliary.

Other officers elected were: Odd Fellows, T. D. Ridley, Dalton, deputy grand master; Dorsey Davis, Athens, grand warden; T. H. Robertson, Gainesville, grand secretary; J. E. Bodenhamer, Decatur, grand treasurer; Mrs. Marian Woodbury, Augusta, representative to Rebekahs' world convention at Hot Springs. Eleven men's degree teams contested tonight in the subordinate section of the grand lodge, and seven women's teams drilled in competition for the Rebekah championship. The winners will be announced Friday morning.

The election of Mr. Ledford came at the afternoon session and after the convention in a body visited the Daniel Memorial Odd Fellows' institution for epileptics, which is located here. At noon the delegates were guests of the Griffin Chamber of Commerce at a barbecue.

Mr. Ledford is a native of north Georgia, having been born and reared at Blairsville, in Union county, and after teaching for a few years after leaving school, was admitted to the bar at Lawrenceville after having read law there. He returned to his native home at Blairsville to practice his profession and was made chairman of the county board of education which position he held for a few years and gave it up to serve a term as county school superintendent. After giving up that position he was elected senator from the 40th district, composed of the counties of Towns, Union and Rabun, and served during the years 1902, 1903 and 1904. He took no part in the deliberations of that body and added in putting upon the statute books some important laws.

After the creation of Grady county in 1905, Mr. Ledford removed with his family to Cairo and opened a law office where he has given his time almost exclusively to his profession. He served as chairman of the county board of education after the creation of the county which position he held until the schools were organized. He was elected mayor of Cairo in 1914. He was made an Odd Fellow at the organization of the lodge at Blairsville in 1903, and was made the first noble grand and after his removal to south Georgia organized a large lodge at Cairo and has been instrumental in the organization of other lodges and was made grand herald at the meeting of the grand lodge in Macon in 1922 and has been steadily advanced to his present position. He is a past master of the Masonic lodge, and past commander of the Knights of Pythias and has served in the grand lodge of both orders.

He is a member of the Baptist church of Cairo and takes an active interest in the work of the church and Sunday school.

Mr. Ledford married Miss Florence Christopher, daughter of Major J. A. Christopher, of Blairsville, and they have four daughters, Mrs. G. L. Worthing, Misses Ida, Curtis and Louise Ledford.

Atlanta Women Given Promotion By Sears, Roebuck

Two Atlanta women who joined the Sears, Roebuck & Co. organization less than a year ago, when the Atlanta store was opened, have been promoted to managerial positions at the new Los Angeles store.

Mrs. Addie C. McDonald and Mrs. Lillian Blanchard were notified this week of their promotion, and will leave the Atlanta store Saturday. They will go from Atlanta to the main store in Chicago as guests of Sears, Roebuck & Co., before leaving for Los Angeles.

Mrs. McDonald was born in Gainesville, Ga., and has been connected with a number of retail stores in Atlanta for the past 12 years before she became associated with Sears, Roebuck. Her rise in the retail branch of the company has been typical of many others. Starting as a clerk, she was promoted to manager of the retail store personnel department, and later was made acting assistant manager of the Atlanta store. She will be in charge of all female personnel of the two retail stores in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Blanchard is another well-known business woman of Atlanta, coming here a number of years ago from Pennsylvania, where she was born. Mrs. Blanchard has been promoted to manager of the infants' and millinery department of the Los Angeles retail store. It was largely through her efforts that the department known as "Baby Land" was started in the Atlanta store.

Charles S. McLenon and Roy W. Dapkin, two Atlanta youths, who recently were notified that jobs awaited them at the retail store of Sears, Roebuck in Los Angeles provided they showed up there to receive them. Wednesday set out on a walking tour that will take them leisurely through some of the greatest scenic wonders of the middle west and west.

The boys, who hiked from Atlanta to Miami over a year ago, said that long-distance walking is a great sport and that they anticipate a highly enjoyable time on the 4,200-mile tramp to Los Angeles.

POOLE IS WINNER IN AD CONTEST

week and what one staff does not like the next one will.

Hundreds of new contestants entered the contest during the second week and many of them are rewarded with prizes. Perhaps you will win a prize during the third week. You have until 9 o'clock Monday morning to try. These rules tell you how to win.

1. The contest may be entered at any time merely by sending an advertising idea to the "Right Ad" Editor, The Constitution.

2. Everyone may compete except professional writers and newspaper employees. This is an amateur contest for people who have never written advertising.

3. Write about any one advertiser or product.

4. Each ad submitted must be on a separate sheet of paper. Write on one side of the paper only—put your name and address on the other side. Put as many ads as you wish in the same envelope.

5. The contest is under no obligation of any kind.

6. A different group of judges will be selected and announced each week from among Atlanta advertising men.

7. The names of all prize winners will be published each week and some of the prize-winning ads reproduced.

8. $4,000 in Cash and Prizes.

One hundred and twenty individual prizes will be awarded weekly—five prizes for the best idea in each category.

The four grand cash prizes of $200, $200, $100 and $50 will be awarded for the four best ideas of the entire contest. (Copyright, 1925, DuPont & Plante.)

U. S. TO RETAIN
RUSSIAN TRADE

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Washington, May 25.—(United News.)—Trade relations between the United States and Soviet Russia apparently are to retain their present status, regardless of Great Britain's break with Moscow.

At the Soviet union information bureau, maintained here by the Russian government, it was said that the only effect of Premier Baldwin's announcement that the British-Russian trade agreements would be scrapped was to increase the interest of American business men in obtaining the business that the British would be expected to lose.

The state department had no comment, although it was indicated there is no alarm here over the British reports that evidence was found in London linking the Soviet propaganda machine with American.

It is denied that the American delegates and Soviet representatives at the Geneva economic conference are negotiating for improved trade relations, by Henry M. Robinson, chairman of the American delegation, the state department has been advised.

Statement Significant.
In view of the British break, which is expected to take place formally tomorrow by action of parliament, this action was regarded as significant that the Soviet information bureau here should issue a statement pointing out that the all-Russian textile syndicate purchased American cotton valued at $25,000,000 in the seven months ended April 30.

During three and a half years this organization has bought 1,191,193 bales of American cotton besides dyed and equipment.

Purchase of complete equipment for a cotton spinning factory of 100,000 spindles is being negotiated in New England and spinning equipment also is being sought. Recently $100,000 in wool spinning machinery was obtained here, says the Soviet bureau.

Trade at Maximum.
The Soviet trade information bureau states that trade between the United States and Russia has reached the highest possible point under present conditions. Further expansion, it is indicated, probably will not come unless there is recognition on at least a trade agreement and financial credits.

The Soviet trade information bureau will be the only new man on the Atlanta board of education as the result of the city primary Wednesday.

John T. Hancock, formerly a member of the board and served as its president. He was nominated with opposition to succeed W. D. Hoffman, who declined to offer for reelection.

Jim W. Maddox, of the fifth ward, and Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, of the sixth, were two others up for nomination. They ran to succeed themselves and were elected without opposition. Of the four posts to be filled on the board no opposition developed.

Perhaps the most expressive gift that can be given is a jewel. Jewelry is peculiarly suited to giving when the most intimate sentiments are to be expressed; for example, the engagement ring and the wedding ring.

It is highly important then that the greatest care should be used in buying jewelry. That is but another way of saying that it should be bought from reliable jewelers.

Maier & Berkele, Inc., are just such jewelers. They have been in business in Atlanta for forty years and the high quality of their merchandise, fair treatment of their customers and their absolute general reliability are well known to the people of the city.

You get gas instantly at any hour of the night or day. But where does the gas really come from—what must be done before you can get the service you want? The Georgia Power Company must build and operate plants for the distillation of gas from "soft coal;" it must lay a network of pipe lines throughout the city, and install and maintain compressors. ### Suggestions for The Atlanta & Lowry National Bank

In your ads continue to talk service, and safety, but go beyond this and tell the people something which will attract and hold their attention.

Start a series of ads—showing just how interest accumulates—show how at compound interest a dollar will double itself in 10-15-18 years, according to rate of interest.

Show how a loan made by you to an individual, or firm—use fictitious names or initials—enabled them to keep their business going, and how they paid back loan when due, and were thus helped at the time they needed finances.

Show why you cannot accept certain applications for loans, and why other applications are most attractive.

Give the public some ideas as to how a Bank is managed, and why you charge exchange for some collections, and do not charge on others.

Joe Stecher Will Defend Wrestling Title Here Tonight

Champion Wrestles Zbyszko for Crown

No Time Limit on Championship Match at Auditorium—Two Other Good Bouts Are Carded.

Whether or not Wladek Zbyszko is to join the vast group of wrestlers who have failed in their repeated efforts to wrest the world's heavyweight wrestling championship away from Joe Stecher will be definitely determined at the city auditorium tonight—for the current season at least. This show concludes Matchmaker John Contos' program in Atlanta and the Greek matchmaker has announced that he will go into retirement until next fall.

Both Zbyszko and Stecher have been here since the first of the week. Wladek has been working regularly in a gym with his brother Stanislaus, while the world's champion has been taking things comparatively easy. He has whittled away the time in golf matches with Tony Stecher, his brother and business manager.

While the no-limit bout between the two outstanding grapplers at the modern era is easily the feature of the Thursday night card, Matchmaker John Contos has arranged an exceptionally good preliminary card.

In the opening prelim John Paves, the well-known Greek, battles Tony D'Amico, the Italian star. Those two boys are so evenly matched that their bout is bound to result in considerable excitement and thrills for the cash customers.

The semi-windup has an appeal all its own. Stanislaus Zbyszko, known the world over as the "grand old man of the mat," meets one Arthur Bonatz. Arthur tips the scales at 255 pounds and is reported to be sufficiently skilled to come with the uncanny tactics of the elder Polish star.

Stanislaus is a favorite in Atlanta and the match in which he is involved will result in a colorful and entertaining affair.

There are those who contend that Zbyszko is the logical man to succeed Stecher as world's champion. He is younger than the average run of wrestlers. He has the strength and he has acquired considerable science and skill from workouts with his brother, who induced him to take up wrestling several years ago.

Stan Sees Victory. Stanislaus has made it plain that he believes his brother will beat Stecher, thereby returning the chamampionship to the Zbyszko family. Stan has held the title twice, losing it to Stecher a few years ago. Since that time the world's champion has been a bit wary about accepting bouts with either of the Zbyszkos.

There can be no doubt but what the two wrestlers will expand all of their energy and skill in the battle Thursday night. Zbyszko is anxious to keep faith with the confidence of his elder brother and counselor, while Joe, according to Brother Tony, is ambitious to retire as the undefeated champion.

The title, so Tony says, is the apple of his brother's eye, and just as soon as he has proven that none of the present-day crop of wrestlers can beat him he intends retiring to private life. In the meanwhile, he is beset with the clamor of ambitious wrestlers. Wladek Zbyszko being considered the most dangerous and menacing of them all.

The show Thursday night gets underway at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets for the match are available at Chess' place, the Piedmont Hatters and at the Piedmont hotel cigar counter. The box office at the city auditorium will be opened early Thursday afternoon. Matchmaker Contos said.

Kelly "Doing Well."

New York, May 25.—(AP)—The condition of George Kelly, first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, was described as "very good" today at the Lutheran hospital where he underwent an appendicitis operation late yesterday. He probably will remain at the hospital two weeks.

Chicago Heads List Of Open Qualifiers

Twenty-One Golfers Will Battle at East Lake June 6 for Place in National Tourney at Oakmont.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—The Chicago district, with 115 of the recorded national entry of 850 golfers, tops the list of 17 areas that will contribute their quota to the field for the national open golf championship to be held at Oakmont, Pa., June 14, 15 and 16. This was disclosed today by Herbert H. Ramsay, secretary of the United States Golf association, in making public the detailed distribution of entries filed and places allotted by districts.

In the southern states Dallas has 22 entries, Atlanta 21 and Richmond 18. With the addition of 40 "exempt" stars, American members of last year's "first 31" and nine visiting British professionals, the list totals 896 players, but only 150 will be qualified for the Oakmont test after the various sectional trials are completed June 6.

Shows Increase. Chicago showed an increase of only two over its 1926 entry total, but this was enough to outstrip Pittsburgh, which showed the biggest increase, 68, as a result of proximity to Oakmont and totaled 113. New York increased its entry only by five to 21. Other substantial increases included St. Louis, 52; Los Angeles, 34; Boston, 26; and San Francisco, 11. Denver showed a decrease of five and Seattle two.

The entries by districts, together with qualifying places allotted, follow:

DISTRICT	Ent.	Plac.
Boston	26	9
New York	21	14
Philadelphia	18	7
Richmond	18	2
Atlanta	21	3
Dallas	22	3
Pittsburgh	113	14

Minneapolis	21	4
St. Louis	63	8
Kansas City	18	2
Denver	12	2
Los Angeles	34	3
Macon	20	3
Seattle	16	2
Totals	896	10
Exempt	49	40
Total entries	896	150

AROUND THE BIG LEAGUE CIRCUITS

Carmen Hill pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to their seventh successive victory Wednesday. The lanky Hoosier shut out the Cincinnati Reds, 2 to 0, besting Carl Mays in a pitching duel. Mays allowed the league leaders but five hits, but the Corsairs bunched three of these with a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning, when they scored their runs. In the seventh inning "Pie" Traynor jumped a fence and went into the stands to make a spectacular catch of a foul. Willis Hudlin, of the Indians, was touched for 11 hits, many for extra bases, by the Tigers, but lasted the route and won his game from the visitors, 9 to 6. Seven three-base hits were made in the course of the slugfest. After the White Sox and the Browns had indulged in a hotting orgy in the first game of their double-header, which was won by Chicago, 14 to 8, Ted Lyons shut out St. Louis in the second game, 1 to 0.

AMERICAN NET STARS ENJOY DAY OF REST

St. Cloud, France, May 25.—(AP)—William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, of the United States, with Rene Lacoste, John Borotra and Henri Cochet, of France, all favorites in the international hard court championships now being played here, have all reached the third round.

Tilden and Hunter reached the third round yesterday and rested today, while the French players came through their second round matches victoriously today.

The German contingent, whose participation in the tournament had been in doubt for some time, now has arrived and soon will get into action.

The third round-play will begin tomorrow. Other prominent survivors in the tournament are Baron von Kehring, of Hungary; O. G. N. Turnbull, of England; Charles A. Swisham, of Switzerland, and Louis Raymond, of South Africa.

Prep Tennis

Wednesday morning it rained. It rained so hard that the clay courts at Piedmont park were unable to dry by Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the finals of the prep singles were postponed. Officials of the tournament Wednesday night did not know whether the match would be played this afternoon or Friday. The first doubles matches will be started this morning. Billy Dreger, of Tech High, and Jack Boykin, of University, are the singles finalists.

Cabbies Battle To 15-Inning Tie

Griffin, Ga., May 25.—(Special.) Teams of the Black and White Cab company of Atlanta and Griffin battled 15 innings to a 1-1 tie here today. Both teams scored their runs in the same inning—the seventh. Burnett, Black and White pitcher, hurled a good game, striking out 15 of the Griffin batters and allowing only five scattered hits. One error was made during the entire 15 innings, and that by Reagan, Atlanta third baseman. The Cabbies piled up a total of 10 hits off the offering of Avery, doing slubwork for the Griffitts. Score by innings: R. H. E. Black and White—000 000 100 000—1 10 1 Griffin—000 000 100 000—1 5 6 Batteries: Burnett and Kirk; Avery and Dumas.

Operation Today For Abe Mitchell

St. Albans, England, May 25.—(AP) Abe Mitchell, noted British golfing star, who was forced to give up his trip to the United States as captain of the British Ryder cup team, will be operated upon tomorrow at a nursing home for appendicitis.

"Choose the Right Tee," Advises Hagen

"One thing golfers overlook," says Walter Hagen, famous pro, "is the importance of the right tee in making good drives." Hagen, like other well-known golfers, uses the Reddy Tee. Gives greater distance... is easier to insert, to adjust, to find when struck, cannot damage club face... longer lasting. Get better drives. Use the Reddy Tee—red or yellow. Sold wherever golf is played. Accept no substitutes. Always ask for The REDDY TEE.

P.A. makes the slickest cigarette you ever rolled

MAYBE "slickest" isn't just the word, because there's no trick to it. But you know what I mean. Just get yourself some Prince Albert and a sheaf of makin's papers. Go ahead and roll the best little smoke you ever made yourself. I'll lay a bet that you'll check with what I'm telling you.

The minute you get a whiff of that P.A. fragrance, your mouth waters for a taste of it in a cigarette. You put a pinch in a paper and roll, easy as pie. When you light up and pull that cool, sweet smoke into your system, you're set on cigarette-makin's for life.

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P.A. is mild and mellow as moonlight, with just enough body to satisfy that deep-down desire for a real smoke. You never get fed-up on a cigarette like this. Morning till midnight, you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em—and enjoy every one. Try this better cigarette-tobacco today.

The things you like about Prince Albert in a cigarette make it equally enjoyable in a pipe. No matter how fast you feed it, P.A. never backfires—never bites your tongue or parches your throat. If you have never-tryed P.A. in a pipe, you've got a real treat coming.

Cyril Tolley Falls Before Haley, 1 Up

American Faces Tough Match Today in British Amateur Tourney.

Hoylake, England, May 25.—(AP)—Edwin H. Haley, tall New York youth who entered the British amateur golf championship "just for fun" and stayed to beat Cyril Tolley today, has turned America's bid for retention of Jess Sweetser's title into a rather serious affair.

Playing in his first tournament, Haley today eliminated the famous British star in a sensational match fought to the last green before the 23-year-old American won, one up.

In defeating Ernest Haysell 3 and 2 today after an uphill fight, barring the path toward the title of the week.

It is his winning streak continues. Haley will play two matches tomorrow, the first against Major Keith Thompson, Sunningdale crack and the second with H. D. Kilby, both excellent match players and if Haley survives he probably will meet Wethered.

Haley's terrific battle today was a severe test to the former Williams college player who is unaccustomed to winning his clubs before a large tournament gallery.

Scared to Death.

"I may have seemed confident but honestly I have never been so scared in my life as when I stepped on the green today," Haley said. "I had to sink a four-footer to beat Tolley and there were at least five holes dancing around in the grass before me. I was lucky enough to pick the right one."

Hoylake weather conditions were perfect today. It was a calm, sunny day without trace of the gale that whipped over the course during the previous days.

It was by sheer superiority of his game, however, that Haley won over Tolley. The rangy, broad-shouldered youth with a free, easy swing showed perfect golf temperament. While Tolley stalked at the ball in characteristic manner, clutching great distances and trusting to golfing chance to escape bunkers, Haley plodded steadily from the tee to green as if he had been playing in championships for years.

Fortune favored the Englishman on the outward when his ball bounded through and over bunkers to good lie but he paid the penalty for wildness on the incoming trip.

Chance Shot Cops Race at Belmont

New York, May 25.—(AP)—J. E. Whitney, a New York City gambler, was today by Jockey Earl Sande, easily won the Withers stake, one of the oldest stakes in the Westchester Racing association program on a muddy track at Belmont park today. All Whitney horses, including Whiskery, were scratched because of the death of Payne Whitney.

CUBS CARDS SPLIT TWIN BILLS.

Chicago, May 25.—Chicago and St. Louis divided a double header today, the Cardinals winning the first game 9 to 5, while the Cubs won the second 8 to 4.

Alexander went to the route for the visitors in the first game in which he was naturally helped by home-run smashes by Bottomley and Bell. The latter's blow coming with the bases filled in the fifth inning. Sherdell was driven off the hill in the eighth inning of the second game when Chicago went on a winning rampage, broke a tie score and won. Others merit the credit for Chicago's win were given sensational support by its outfielders despite a high wind, which made fielding of fly balls difficult. Close to 20,000 persons witnessed the twin bill.

Miss Anderson Weds Mr. Hill At Ceremony in Innman Park

Of cordial interest to a large circle of friends in Atlanta and throughout the state was the wedding on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock of Miss Cora Alice Anderson to Charles Woodson Hill, of Forsyth, Ga., which took place in the Innman Park Methodist church in the presence of a large gathering. The Rev. Henry B. Mays performed the ceremony. The church was elaborately and artistically decorated, shasta daisies in masses lending themselves to the beauty of the scene. Palms, candelabra and baskets of flowers banded the choir loft and around the pulpit. Tall white standards bearing lighted candles marked the pews down the aisles.

Bridal Party.—A musical program was rendered preceding the ceremony with Alton O'Steen at the organ. Rufus Groover played "Simple Confession" on the violin and Mrs. Ernest W. Totten sang "At Dawning" and "All for You." MacDonell's "To a Wild Rose" was played during the ceremony.

The bridesmaids were Misses Blanche, Charles F. Heard and Homer A. Lacey, of Forsyth, and Henry B. Mays, Jr., of Atlanta, who entered the church two doors from the bride. Following these came the bridesmaid, Mrs. S. J. Milton; the groomsmen, Howell E. Newton and Elbert Banks, of Forsyth; next came Mrs. C. Iverson Reed, matron of honor. The ring bearers were little Pearl Hill and Charles Hill, Jr., who bore the rings for the double ring ceremony on satin pillows bordered with daisies. Little Miss Hill's dress was shell pink georgette with puffed ruffles and Chantrelle wore long white trousers with a navy coat.

Miss Susie Anderson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and came next, followed by little Georgia Rasmussenberg as flower girl, who was a dainty figure in yellow georgette and who scattered rose petals in the path way to the bride.

Lovely Bride.—The lovely bride entered with her mother, Mrs. Anne Anderson. In whom was the most charming of the radiant happiness of the charming bride was set off by her beautiful costume, which was a two-piece Georgian model of rose georgette, bordered with rare lace and inset with brilliant. Rose satin pumps and a large French hat of straw in rose, caught on the left side of the crown by a ribbon of daisies after the ceremony to receive the blessing.

The gowns of the attendants were made exactly alike, with basque waists, low-cut skirts and a wide band of deep shades, with tulle roses in the point of each sear. Mrs. Hill wore green, Mrs. Hill wore black and Miss Anderson blue. Each one carried an arm bouquet in pastel shades of sweet peas and snapdragons.

Dance Program At Hope School.—On Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the R. L. Hope school auditorium the pupils of the LaFontaine school of dancing will give a varied and delightful program. The entire proceeds have been donated to the Hope P. T. A. Admission for adults, 25 cents; children, 10 cents.

Arkansas Club Holds Meeting.—The Arkansas club met Tuesday at the home of its president, Dr. Elizabeth Brock. Interesting reports of the activities of the club during the flood relief work were made. The club has forwarded 10 boxes of clothing to the flooded district and turned over $275 to the Red Cross. All-day sewing meetings have been held during the month. An interesting program of music and a reading by Mrs. Jack McMinion were given. T. J. was the last regular meeting of the club until the September meeting.

Dance Program At Hope School.—On Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the R. L. Hope school auditorium the pupils of the LaFontaine school of dancing will give a varied and delightful program. Mesdames Hastings Gives Afternoon Tea.—An attractive affair of Wednesday afternoon was the bridge-tee at which Mrs. H. G. Hastings and Mrs. Ray Hastings were joint hostesses at their home on Clairmont avenue. Assisting the hostess in entertaining were Mesdames Stanley Hastings, Donald Hastings and W. W. Freeman. Following a bridge game on the terrace, a group of friends called for tea. Sixty guests were present.

For Men Who Get Up Cross in the Morning.—Lots of men are like that. Won't speak a pleasant word—if indeed they'll speak to you at all—until they've had their breakfast. No matter what you say to them, it's the wrong thing. The way to treat men like that is not with conversation. They are the men who, like most Americans, live on their nerves. They don't get enough sleep. And when they have to get up in the morning, they are not completely rested. So they're cross. What they need is a good hot drink that will refresh them—that will taste delicious and satisfying without setting their nerves on edge—that will give them a comfortable sense of well-being—that will put them in harmony with themselves and with the rest of the world—that will make them fit for the strenuous day before them. Any one of the three perfect RIDGWAYS blends can do this. Try it! Compare its effects with those of any other drink. You'll notice the difference in one day. You'll be calmer, happier and easier to live with. Add you'll love the delicious, full-bodied flavor.

"The First Thing You Think of"—RIDGWAYS Tea. THREE perfect blends to meet all demands. RIDGWAYS "Her Majesty's Blend"—originally blended for the special and private use of Queen Victoria of Great Britain. RIDGWAYS "Gold Label" 100% Genuine Orange Pekoe Tea—The connoisseur's favorite—a blend of the world's finest flowery Orange Pekoe teas. RIDGWAYS "Orange Label Tea"—a fine, mild India-Ceylon tea—the most popular blend in the United States.

Children Love It

How the children love the well roasted nutty flavor of Heinz Peanut Butter! Spread their bread thick—and then spread another slice. It is better for the little folks than sweets—and often they'd rather have it.

Heinz knows just how to bring out the delicious flavor of the peanuts themselves. Little round Spanish peanuts and the larger fat Virginia nuts—carefully selected and blended—just enough of each roasted to the very second when they are exactly right. Then, after the bitter hearts and skins have been removed, they are ground to a smooth, creamy butter and a pinch of salt is added.

Let the children have plenty—all they want. It is as good as it tastes—and that's mighty, mighty good.

THE GUMPS—AIN'T SHE SWEET!

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

INSTALLMENT XL.

SOPHY MAKES UP HER MIND.

Cristina, who had wormed herself into a corner at one of the windows and was holding it against a dozen would-be usurpers, knew the secret of Sophy's mysterious disappearance while Willie Moppet merely made a good guess at it. Cristina knew.

For a moment he had stood conspicuously in the doorway and surveyed that lunatic crowd—Alan Brooke, more or less in his workaday clothes, soft gray flannel, a silk shirt with turnover collar and a spotted blue tie. He looked exactly what he was, an artist of some description, or shall we say, some one a trifle resourceful, quick-witted, smiling, a little amused, a little interested and desirous.

Cristina thought, "Ah, he is alone! But why has he come? What is he looking for?"

Then one of the orange-wigged pierrots saw him, too, clutched the seat of her chair for a moment, glanced around excitedly, nudged the pierrot of her next, nudged her lips—Cristina saw all this and finally knew. No one paid the least attention to that slender, foreign figure, except Cristina. The pierrots were absorbed and under the foot of the little black shawl the Italian woman's line moved in a nervous way. Let the English signora who had such a fine husband of her own and did not trouble to look after him as she ought, would with going by train. We're going quite by ourselves in a rather little two-seater. I've bought, second hand.

"Where are we going?" Sophy asked, her voice quivering slightly. She was thinking of Piers Tancred's little as opposed to a rather little two-seater, and how fast it could get up the miles if Piers got the slightest idea as to their direction. There wasn't a wide choice of roads in this corner of the world, either. It must be towards the French frontier or the other direction, towards Genoa, or possibly to Tunis.

"I wish you had a little more flesh on you," Alan said sulkily.

Sophy began to cry and then he was sorry he had said that and tried to comfort her. After all, he couldn't expect qualities of her which she did not possess.

"I love you, Alan," he said tensely. "You got one tonight, so you can manage it again tomorrow night. Tell Moppet you want to keep that rope hanging. If it is in the shanty by the wall, and I'll be waiting on the other side. I'll be there in half an hour, but don't let that voice you can't hear on time. I'll go on waiting until dawn. I'll just sit there by the side of the path with cigarettes for company until you come and give me a signal. Now is that quite clear?"

"Yes," Sophy said faintly.

"Promises? No looking out?"

"Oh, I'll come. But as she said it, she wondered. It seemed so incredible, so unlikely that she could repeat to night's triumph with similar success. There would be no hall tomorrow night, and no one could guess what Piers' mood might be.

Just now, however, Sophy was for getting time. She was with Alan, a precious golden moment!—and although they had all the rest of their lives together in prospect, that meant very little against the moments they held in such secure possession.

But in time even Alan, jealously anxious as he was to keep her, thought she had better be going back to the casino. There might be an end to Willie Moppet's patience.

Apparently there was, for when these self-absorbed lovers returned they found the casino more than half empty and the other three orange pierrots were nowhere in evidence. Worse than that, Piers, too, had gone.

"Of course I can't blame him," said Sophy, referring to Willie Moppet's defection. "He had to take that Miss Bryant back, and she lives somewhere near Ventignolle. I suppose they got tired of waiting for me."

She was terribly anxious, however, although she tried to be so. I only thought she could cope tonight instead of tomorrow night, but impetuous and eager though he was, even Alan had to admit that Sophy could cope very well on off with him in a pierrot's costume. Besides, the little second hand car wasn't ready. They were going to give it a thorough overhauling at the garage tomorrow.

There is always the danger that a semi-mental man will mistake for affection what is merely a yearning for a good thick steak.

"Yes, I saw him," Alan said, giving her a sideways glance.

"He's with a girl upstairs," she exclaimed. "How can they stand it in there? It's hellish!"

"We found each other in a mud house," Alan observed cynically. "Sophy, have you made up your mind yet?"

"You mean—?"

"You know well enough what I mean. And don't you forget what I mean."

LITA GREY CHAPLIN
SUMMONED TO COURT

LITA GREY CHAPLIN
SUMMONED TO COURT

Los Angeles, May 25.—(AP)—Lita Grey Chaplin today was ordered to appear in superior court June 2 to show cause why she should not give a deposition demanded by Charlie Chaplin's attorneys in connection with her divorce suit against the comedian or be held in contempt of court.

The court order was issued by Presiding Judge Wood after Lita Grey Chaplin, one of Chaplin's attorneys, appeared late today and recounted the attempted taking of a deposition before him yesterday. At that time Mrs. Chaplin and her attorneys walked out of Wright's office when a single question had been asked, but unanswered, following a squabble of attorneys over whether newspapermen should be permitted to be present.
